

TODAY IS CIRCUS DAY IN HARRISBURG and the Saline county fairgrounds is the home of many wild animals. The Al G. Kelly and Miller Bros. Circus came to town during the early morning hours and began setting up for two performances in Harrisburg—this afternoon and tonight. By 9 a. m. the fairground was a beehive of activity and many townspeople were on hand to see the great number of animals with the show. There were cage after cage housing lions, tigers, leopards, bears, monkeys etc., and tamer animals, including many horses and ponies were staked out to graze. Attracting considerable attention were the camels, yaks and llamas, (photo at left) along the main road leading into the fairgrounds and a herd of elephants in the northeast corner of the grounds. A part of the herd is shown in photo at right. (Daily Register Staff Photos)

Regular Grand Jury Empaneled By Circuit Judge Ross Reynolds

Most Important
Group in Several Years, Judge Says

Circuit Judge C. Ross Reynolds of Vienna today empaneled the regular grand jury for the September term of Saline county circuit court with the statement that "you are the most important grand jury to be empaneled in Saline county in several years."

Judge Reynolds, who will preside during the September term, empaneled a grand jury of 20 men and two women from all parts of the county. Willie Robinson, Cottage township farmer, was sworn in as the foreman.

State's Attorney Robert V. Wilson said several days ago that he would take evidence in the Don Garrison case before the grand jury. This morning he had nothing to add to this statement, except to state that the grand jury might not get through with its investigations in one day, as is usually the case.

Auditor Here
Garrison, county clerk, has received pay in excess of amounts appropriated for him by the Saline County Board of Supervisors, according to a report by the Peoria auditing firm, Coker and Coker.

M. B. Coker, member of this firm, had come down from Peoria this morning. After the entire jury was sworn, Judge Reynolds explained to the group the difference between a regular grand jury, as was empaneled today, and a special grand jury. A special grand jury is selected by the sheriff, he said, after a state's attorney requests one when a regular grand jury members, he explained, are chosen and approved by the county board. "The province of a grand jury is far-reaching," Judge Reynolds stated. It can investigate any offenses, any court, any board or any officer. It can indict anybody for any criminal offense in its county. "You are your own boss. You can call additional witnesses, can secure any books or records you want in the court of your investigation."

Action in Jury Room Secret

"You have as much authority as a U. S. Senate Investigating committee in your own county. If anything is going on in your county you believe to be criminal and needs to be corrected, this is the process and the way to get the case into court."

"You are the most important grand jury to be empaneled in Saline county in several years and we just want you to seek out the truth."

He pointed out that to return an indictment, a majority of a full panel of 23 members is needed, which is a vote of 12. Today's panel was one short but only 16 grand jury members are required to transact business.

He also emphasized that the grand jury did not convict anybody, that they were to decide if there were enough evidence in cases presented for the state's attorney to carry the case on to trial.

The judge also pointed out to the members that what happens inside the grand jury room is secret and confidential.

Vernon and Mrs. Lorene Mx of Poseyville; 21 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

The body was taken to the Eldorado funeral home.

Incomes Have Moved Long Way Since 1939 to Offset Taxes, Inflation

NEW YORK (AP)—The $3,000-a-year wage earner in 1939 must earn $6,122 annually today just to hold his own, the National Industrial Conference Board reported today in the latest of its "road maps of industry."

Incomes, the board noted, have had to move up a long way since 1939 simply to offset rising taxes and inflation.

The married couple with two children and a $3,000 income in 1939 paid only $30 in federal income and social security taxes, which left him $2,970. To end up with the equivalent today, he would have to gross $6,122 since taxes

Eisenhower Urges Support for Civil Defense Week

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower Sunday urged every American family to support and participate in National Civil Defense Week during the next seven days.

Launching the week's activities with a recorded address, the President cautioned that "weakness and unreadiness invite attack." He said the aim of the United States "is to be strong enough to preserve peace."

"The observance of National Civil Defense Week will provide an opportunity for each of you to learn your part," the President said.

Shawneetown Banker Dies

Death of Max Galt
Follows Stroke
Suffered Last Week

Max Galt, 60, cashier of the First National Bank of Shawneetown since 1927, died Sunday in an Olney, Ill., hospital following a stroke suffered last Wednesday.

Mr. Galt was mayor of Shawneetown from 1943 to 1953. He was one of the leading proponents of evacuation of the old town and moving Shawneetown to its present site above Ohio River flood level.

Galt also headed the Gallatin County Housing Authority and was connected with the Goetzman-Galt Insurance Co. until he turned this organization over to his son, Jimmy Joe.

Galt left school when he was 17 and became affiliated with the institution of which he was cashier at the time of his death.

In addition to his son, Mr. Galt is survived by his wife, Marie, a brother, Hal, of Texas, and two grandchildren.

The body is at the Wright funeral home in Shawneetown.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 10 a. m. at St. Mary's church in Old Shawneetown. Burial will be in Immaculate Conception cemetery north of Shawneetown.

New Nuclear Blasts By Soviet Union

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union set off a nuclear bomb today, the Soviet Tass news agency reported. It said another nuclear weapon was exploded Sept. 2.

Tass said both were connected with "the implementation of the program of scientific research work."

Typhoon Leaves Destruction in Okinawa, Japan

TOKYO (AP)—Typhoon Emma whirled across the Japan sea toward Siberia today with 115-mile per hour winds, leaving a swath of destruction in Japan, Korea and Okinawa. Fantastic rainfalls up to 32 inches and accompanying floods added to the disaster.

The typhoon, rampaging far north of its tropical breeding ground, killed 19 persons in a glancing blow at southwest Japan and injured 93. Winds and floods destroyed hundreds of houses and left 6,134 persons homeless.

One American soldier and two Okinawan civilians were reported killed when Emma struck there with full fury. U. S. authorities announced 8,466 buildings were destroyed or badly damaged and thousands homeless. Damage was in the millions.

Reports from Korea were incomplete. Communications were crippled and there was no immediate word on the damage done to the hundreds of thousands of war refugees living in flimsy shacks in such cities as Pusan which was sideswiped.

The U. S. Itazuke Air Base in Kyushu reported 128 buildings damaged, several roofs blown off but no casualties or damage to aircraft.

A mountain village in Shikoku Island recorded "over 32 inches" of rain. Another "over 28 inches." The typhoon drove through the Tsushima Straits between Japan and South Korea this morning, sparing both countries the full force of its deadly winds. It was moving northward at 45 miles an hour toward Siberia and the northern island of Hokkaido.

The course was the same as that taken by a typhoon two years ago which caught ferryboats between Honshu and Hokkaido and killed 1,500 persons in minutes.

Equality Voters Approve Bonds For Water Supply

The first step in a program to furnish Equality with an adequate supply of water was successfully taken Saturday.

Voters of Equality went to the polls Saturday to vote on a proposed $11,000 general obligation bond issue and voted overwhelmingly in favor. There were 223 votes in favor and 17 against, it is reported.

Phillip DeVous, president of the Village Board, stated this morning a meeting had been called for Thursday evening, at which time it was planned to let a contract for drilling deep wells.

The plan calls for the drilling of wells on the property usually referred to as the Forest Nursery property, four miles east of Equality and running a water line from the wells to the village.

Tests indicate sufficient water in the area, showing 108 feet of gravel and sand water storage and water is found only 21 feet below the surface, according to reports.

Total cost of the drilling, laying the water lines and installing necessary pumps has been estimated at $76,000.

The Mangus Bonding Company of Cincinnati, purchaser of the original water system bonds in Equality, has agreed to furnish the additional money necessary if the village would assume the $11,000 general obligation, according to reports.

Farm Bureau Board Votes to Build Building

Members of the Board of Directors of the Saline County Farm Bureau met Saturday and voted to construct a new building for the organization, now housed at 9 1-2 North Gum street, across from the depot, Harrisburg.

Sometime ago it was decided to move into larger quarters, but until Saturday's meeting it hadn't been decided if a new building would be constructed or a building purchased and remodeled.

Saturday's vote was in favor of brand new construction.

Meeting with the Farm Bureau members Saturday morning were representatives of Harrisburg's business and civic groups and city government.

Heading the local group was a delegation from the Harrisburg Junior Chamber of Commerce, with Bob Davenport, chairman of the industrial committee, the speaker.

Davenport assured the Farm Bureau that Harrisburg wanted the county offices to remain in Harrisburg, despite rumors to the contrary.

He also suggested several suitable building sites, including a tract of land on the County Farm, an area at the Saline County Fairgrounds and others. He also suggested several buildings that might be purchased and remodeled to suit the organization's needs.

Ersel Vineyard of Mountain township, president of the Board of Directors, stated the Farm Bureau desired at least 3,000 square feet of floor space and a tract of land at least one acre in size, with a 2-acre area preferred. And it is possible there will be an expansion of another 2,000 square feet of floor space, Vineyard stated.

The building will include eight or ten office rooms and a large auditorium.

There are 15 to 20 employees in the Farm Bureau office.

Bi-State Group to Study Bridge Tolls At New Harmony

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Gov. William G. Stratton today announced a bi-state commission will be appointed in the near future to study possible elimination of tolls from the New Harmony Bridge over the Wabash River.

Stratton said he discussed the problem in Chicago during the weekend with Indiana Gov. George N. Craig. The bridge, constructed and operated by a private firm, spans the river between Illinois and Indiana near Crossville. U. S. 40 crosses the river on the bridge.

Personnel of the study commission will be equally divided between the two states, Stratton said.

Girl Drowns

PAW PAW, Mich. (AP)—Gloria Bania, 10, Chicago, drowned in Paw Paw Lake Sunday when the rowboat in which she was riding was struck by a motorboat.

Howard Rynberk, 34, South Holland, Mich., driver of the motorboat, was jailed at St. Joseph, Mich., on manslaughter charges.

Church Members In U. S. Pass 100 Million Mark

NEW YORK (AP)—Church membership in the United States went over 100 million persons in 1955 for the first time in history, the National Council of Churches reported today.

The council said figures compiled for its annual Yearbook of American Churches show 60.9 per cent of Americans belong to churches, as compared with 57 per cent in 1950, 49 per cent in 1940 and 36 per cent in 1900.

A 2.3 per cent gain brought total Protestant church membership to 58,448,567. Roman Catholics reported a 3.1 per cent increase to 33,396,647. Jewish membership remained the same, 5,500,000, and Eastern Orthodox churches reported a 17.9 per cent gain, to 2,366,945.

Both Parties Watch Election in Maine for Signs of Political Trend

WASHINGTON (AP)—Party managers watched Maine elections today for signs of a 1956 political trend.

Maine's state constitution provides for election of state officials and members of Congress on the second Monday in September. It casts its votes for president, however, on Nov. 6 along with the other 47 states, which also elect members of Congress on that date.

As far as its congressional delegation is concerned, Maine finishes the job before a number of states hold their party primaries to nominate House and Senate candidates. Nine states will have primaries Tuesday and Wednesday.

The old adage, "as Maine goes so goes the nation," has long since been discarded because that state has not voted Democratic in a presidential election since 1912.

Democratic presidential candidates, meanwhile have won six national elections.

But Republicans and Democrats will watch the balloting for the three Maine congressional seats and state officers to see if their percentage of the vote shows any significant change which may be expected to carry through to the rest of the country.

States holding primaries this week include Arizona, Colorado, Minnesota, New Hampshire, Utah, Vermont, Washington, Wisconsin and Georgia.

All of these states nominate candidates for the House and all but Minnesota nominate candidates for the Senate.

The Wisconsin GOP primary pits

Sen. Alexander Wiley, who is fighting for a chance at a fourth six-year term, against Rep. Glenn Davis, who has the endorsement of the state Republican organization.

In the Colorado Democratic primary Tuesday, Charles F. Branman, secretary of agriculture in the Truman administration, is matched against former Rep. John Carroll, who won the Senate nomination in 1950 and 1954 but lost both times to the Republican candidates.

The winner will oppose former Gov. Dan Thornton, who has the state organization endorsement for the Republican nomination to succeed retiring GOP Sen. Eugene D. Millikin.

Georgia Democrats vote Wednesday to nominate a successor to veteran Sen. Walter F. George, Senate president pro tempore and chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. Former Gov. Herman Talmadge and M. E. Thompson are candidates for the nomination, which is tantamount to election in Georgia.

Dr. Robert Pulliam Named Co-Chairman of Salvation Army Drive

Dr. Robert Pulliam, young dentist who recently set up offices in Harrisburg, has been named co-chairman of this year's Salvation Army drive for funds.

Dr. Pulliam, well-known here, will be co-chairman along with James Black, whose selection was announced Saturday.

The Salvation Army drive will start Sept. 26 and the goal is $5,000.

Blonde South Carolina Girl Is Crowned New Miss America

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—The new Miss America, blonde Marian Ann McKnight of South Carolina, beat the "smart guys" to the draw in her first meeting with the press corps.

The five-foot five-inch beauty handed herself so well during her first news conference that she came up a winner although she won none of the honors in the preliminary judging during a hectic week of the Miss A pageant.

The pretty queen from Manning, S. C., opened up her own conference before the reporters had a chance to wag a tongue.

"I'm still numb," she said. "When Leonore Slaughter pinned the Miss America ribbon on me, she stuck me right hard. I was numb, I guess and I didn't even feel it."

To Tour Abroad
Marian, a 19-year-old college junior, starts her new duties today in New York. She is scheduled to appear on three television shows on different networks and to hold a news conference.

From there she starts a 100,000 mile tour of personal appearances in several states and two trips to places like London, Rome, Paris, and Sicily. The tour is expected to net her at least $50,000.

Her year-long reign as Miss America of 1957 includes a ban on marriage.

Marian (35-23-35) is in love, of course, as most teen-agers are. The lucky guy is Johnny Gramling, a first lieutenant in the Air Force at Shaw Air Force Base near Sumter, S. C. Gramling starred on the University of South Carolina football team and later played for Ottawa in the Canadian Professional League.

Johnny called Marian after she won Saturday night and said: "When will I get to see you, darling."

Best answer she could give was that it will be a year or so maybe, unless she gets a coffee break to go back home.

Margo Lucey, brown-haired Miss District of Columbia, came in second in the judging and Miss Alabama, 19-year-old blonde Anne Stuart Atrial, was third. There were no announced winners beyond that point in the contest among the 50 girls.

British, French Meet to Discuss Grave Situation

Egyptian Premier
Asks New Conference
To Settle Controversy

LONDON (AP)—Britain flatly rejected today Egypt's call for new international negotiations to end the Suez crisis.

The rejection came shortly before the heads of the British and French governments met to discuss peace or war in the "very, very grave" situation.

"The Egyptian statement does not appear to suggest any basis for negotiation," the Foreign Office announced.

It was the first official Western rejection to Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser's suggestion earlier today that a new international conference be called to settle the controversy over the vital waterway.

"The last action of the Egyptian government has been the unqualified refusal of the proposal put forward as a basis for negotiation by the Menzies mission on behalf of 18 nations," the Foreign Office said.

The proposal was the so-called Dulles plan for international control of the canal.

Britain's stand was made known in a two-sentence statement issued during a meeting of Prime Minister Anthony Eden and key cabinet ministers.

The firm tone of the statement indicated Eden had not wavered in his determination for international control of the canal.

In Washington, diplomatic sources said the United States will give serious consideration to Egypt's latest proposals for a new conference. But they refused to predict whether the United States will endorse the proposal.

Egypt's invitation went out to all nations using the canal and was made as the Menzies mission retreated from Cairo in failure.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said today he is "deeply disappointed" by Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser's rejection of the Dulles plan for settling the Suez dispute.

Dulles said in a statement that the beneficiaries of the 1888 treaty governing the Suez Canal "have rights" which still should be pursued "consistently with the spirit of the United Nations charter."

He did not say whether he believes the issue now should go to the U. N. Security Council.

Area Electric Union Members Idle in Protest

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP)—About 1,600 members of Local 702, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, in downstate Illinois were idle today in a protest walk-out over a recently concluded wage agreement.

Officials of the union local, which covers about the southern third of the state, met here in a closed session to discuss the walk-out.

An electrical contractor said the walkout stemmed from the workers' dissatisfaction with an arbitrator's wage agreement completed Aug. 20 between the local and the National Electrical Contractors' Assn. The contract called for a 10-cent across-the-board pay increase and a 30-cent wage hike for industrial work involving jobs worth $5,000 or more.

Union spokesmen were not immediately available for comment.

Grandmother Wins $8,000 on TV for Bible Knowledge

NEW YORK (AP) — A 55-year-old grandmother won $8,000 and retained her Bible knowledge championship Sunday night on the $64,000 Challenge television quiz. Mrs. Catherine Kreitzer, Camp Hill, Pa., answered correctly to defeat her challenger, Frank K. Medley, 74, a retired railroad porter from Greensboro, S. C., who failed to answer the same question.

Mrs. Kreitzer and Medley were asked a question based upon the third chapter of Ecclesiastes, which says there is "a time to be born and a time to die," then lists 13 other pairs of contrasts, each of which has its proper time. The contestants were asked to name only six.

After Medley could name only one, Mrs. Kreitzer correctly quoted six.

Benson Hopes 20 Million Acres Will Be Converted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson said Sunday night he hopes 20 million acres of croplands will be converted to grass and trees in the 1957 fiscal year.

The goal is much higher than the 1,300,000 acres converted last year, according to a summary of conservation accomplishments released by Benson. The summary said 3,300,000 acres were converted in 1954 and 1955.

Benson said the shift has taken place as part of the regular soil and water conservation program. The move, he said, "will be given tremendous added stimulus by the conservation reserve of the soil bank."

Johnston City Girl Bride of Gary Trammel in Church Ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Trammel

Announcement is being made of the marriage of Miss Beverly Ann Brennan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Lee Brennan, 301 West Broadway, Johnston City, and Gary Dwain Trammel, son of Mrs. Marie Womack of RFD 1, Harrisburg, in the Dorris Heights community and Omer Trammel of Harrisburg.

Wedding vows were exchanged Friday, August 24, at eight o'clock in the evening at the First Baptist church in Johnston City. The Rev. Charles R. Walker of Cartersville, performed the double ring ceremony.

The white carpeted altar was centered with an arch covered with tropical greens and decorated with tall beauty vases filled with white gladioli and yellow chrysanthemums, palms and two seven branch candelabra holding white and yellow tapers. Every other pew was marked with a white candelabra tied with greens and white satin bows.

Vocalist John Schork sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly" accompanied by the organist, Miss Hazel Kemper, of Johnston City. Miss Kemper played "O Promise Me" preceding the ceremony.

The bride, on the arm of her father, came down the white carpeted aisle in a full length gown of net and lace designed with a Sabrina neckline and long, white, lace pointed sleeves. The bodice had a deep plunge in back and was closed with tiny buttons. The bouffant skirt was styled with a white panel of lace in front and a small train in back. Her fingertip veil of illusion was secured to a white lace hat and she carried a white satin-lace covered Bible centered with a large white chrysanthemum encircled with baby-mums and tube roses tied in satin ribbon and streamers that fell to the hem of her gown.

Barbara Sue King of Johnston City, close friend of the bride, was matron of honor wearing a yellow waltz length gown of net and lace with a matching lace jacket. She wore a yellow flowered hat and carried a cascade bouquet of bronze mums with pomps against a background of yellow net and yellow satin ribbon.

Bridesmaid was Donna Gene Brennan of East St. Louis, niece of the bride. She wore a green waltz length gown designed with a green satin cummerbund at the waist and a large green satin bow in back. Her hat was of green net and she carried a cascade bouquet of bronze mums and pomps with yellow net tied with green satin ribbon.

Phillip Trammel, brother of the groom, Harrisburg, was best man, and Lyndell Trammel, also a brother of the groom, Harrisburg, served as groomsman. Ushers were Charles Polk, Claude Short, Gale Travelstead and Eddie Seright, all of Harrisburg.

Corby Short, nephew of the bride, Peoria, was ring bearer.

The bride's mother wore a pink mum corsage trimmed with silver and Mrs. Trammel wore a gardenia tied in gold. The grandmother of the bride, Mrs. Joe Grizzell, wore a white carnation corsage.

At the close of the ceremony Rev. Walker sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Two hundred friends and relatives attended the reception which followed in the church basement.

Gov. Stratton, Sen. Dirksen Lead Caravans Into Downstate

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Gov. William G. Stratton and U. S. Sen. Everett M. Dirksen today led two caravans into downstate Illinois for the official start of the Republican state political campaign.

Stratton's caravan left Springfield at 10 a. m. CST for its first stop at Jacksonville. Also on today's itinerary were stops at Winchester, Pittsfield and Quincy.

Traveling with Stratton were Secretary of State Charles E. Carpenter, Atty. Gen. Latham Castle and State Sen. Elbert S. Smith, candidate for state auditor.

The caravan, which will tour downstate until Oct. 15 before going into Cook County for the remainder of the campaign, will hit 17 counties this week. On the schedule for the rest of the week were stops at Mount Sterling, Beardstown, Rushville, Havana, Petersburg, Carlinville, Litchfield, Taylorville, Pana, Shelbyville, Effingham, Westfield, Martinsville, Casey, Paris, Charleston and Mattoon.

Dirksen took his caravan into Canton, Abingdon and Galesburg today. Traveling with him were Lt. Gov. John W. Chapman, Supreme Court Clerk Mrs. Fae I. Searcy and Elmer J. Hoffman, candidate for state treasurer.

The Dirksen caravan will hit 19 counties this week, with stops through the remainder of the week at Monmouth, Stronghurst, Keithsburg, Joy, New Boston, Aledo, Moline, Chicago, Belvidere, Rockford, Stockton, Freeport, Forreston, Geneseo, Mount Carroll, Sterling, Princeton, Sheffield, Annawan, Kewanee, Toulon, Lacon, Chillicothe, and Peoria.

Stratton got in some early punches Sunday in a speech to the Grant Township Republican Club at Fox Lake. He said he was prepared for a hard campaign and that this was the "first time in a generation that the people can have confidence in their national government."

On the Democratic side, meanwhile, Richard Stengel, candidate for the U. S. Senate, demanded in a speech at Rockford that suit be filed against National Republican Chairman Leonard Hall for recovery of about $6,000 allegedly spent by former GOP State Auditor Orville E. Hodge for political announcements on behalf of the Republican national ticket.

Stengel charged the money was stolen from the state treasury by Hodge, who is now in prison for embezzlement. He asked that the suit be filed by Republican Attorney General Castle.

The Democrats' candidate for governor, Judge Richard B. Austin, was scheduled for a speech at Rockford Tuesday.

Dirksen took his caravan into Canton, Abingdon and Galesburg today. Traveling with him were Lt. Gov. John W. Chapman, Supreme Court Clerk Mrs. Fae I. Searcy and Elmer J. Hoffman, candidate for state treasurer.

The Dirksen caravan will hit 19 counties this week, with stops through the remainder of the week at Monmouth, Stronghurst, Keithsburg, Joy, New Boston, Aledo, Moline, Chicago, Belvidere, Rockford, Stockton, Freeport, Forreston, Geneseo, Mount Carroll, Sterling, Princeton, Sheffield, Annawan, Ke-

St. Louis (AP)—FBI agents today joined the police of Illinois and Missouri in a search for a 34-year-old St. Louis truck driver wanted for questioning in the abduction and rape of a pretty 14-year-old Venice, Ill., schoolgirl.

The girl was picked up as she returned from Sunday school. She escaped in St. Charles County, Mo., Sunday night, when she staggered into a farmhouse in a state of shock and telephoned her mother.

She told St. Charles County Sheriff Lester Plackmeyer the man drove to Wentzville, Mo., and registered there at a motel. Warning her to "keep your mouth shut," he attacked her.

She said they left the place and stopped in a wooded area near Boschertown, where he again tried to assault her. But she escaped and sought help after walking several miles in a semi-hysterical condition.

Authorities obtained the license number of her abductor's car from the motel operator and instituted a two-state search.

The girl, daughter of an unemployed laborer, is one of seven children. She is an eighth-grade student.

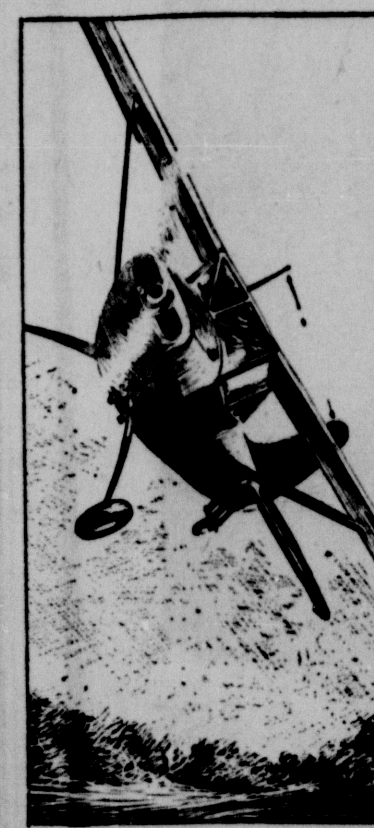

Wife Admits Pouring Lye Over Mate's Face While He Was Sleeping

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A 36-year-old woman was held on a battery charge today for pouring lye over her sleeping husband's face to "make him suffer as he makes his family suffer."

Mrs. Roxie Green admitted the incident to police Sunday, but charged her husband broke her arm two weeks ago and threatened to kill her and her son Saturday night.

Charles Green, 35, was in poor condition at County General Hospital. Green told authorities he and his wife have quarreled in recent weeks over household expenses.

ARMY AVIATION

Entirely distinct from the Air Force of the National Military Establishment is the United States Army's aircraft career field. This field chiefly involves light airplanes and helicopters, serving varied purposes. More prestige and status than ever go now to the enlisted specialists maintaining the Army's light fixed-wing aircraft and helicopters. This field offers an interesting career with ample opportunities for advancement. Although designed to meet specialized needs of the United States Army, the jobs in this field are easily convertible to comparable activities in civilian industry.

Watch Storms 'n Atlantic, Gulf

MIAMI (U.P.) — Hurricane watchers warned Atlantic ships of danger from storm Carla today and turned their attention to a broad band of squally weather in the Gulf of Mexico.

Carla, third tropical storm of the hurricane season, was churning the Atlantic far from shore with winds up to 60 miles per hour. Weathermen dismissed the possibility of danger to the U. S. mainland.

The entire gulf was closely watched in the meantime for a possible buildup of a full fledged storm in a new suspicious area.

The Miami Weather Bureau said a plane over Campeche Bay in the southwest gulf reported light winds and some "low pressure."

Fined on Drunken Driving Charges

John Webb, en route from Michigan to Alabama, was arrested over the week-end by State Policeman Roy A. Lane and this morning Webb was fined $200 and costs when arraigned before County Judge Trafton Dennis on drunken driving charges.

Judge Dennis ordered that if the fine and costs are not paid that he be kept in jail at the rate of $1.50 per day until payment is made in that manner.

Lane said that he ran down the Webb car which was travelling at an 85 miles an hour pace on Route 45.

Arrested After Chase by Police

Bobby Maynard today was charged with driving while intoxicated and reckless driving following his arrest around midnight Saturday by Night Policemen Link Rann and Harvey Vinyard.

Chief of Police Ross Lane said Maynard drove 50 miles an hour through town, disregarding stop signs, and the policemen gave chase. They arrested him when Maynard stopped in front of the Guy Daniel place on East Walnut street, Lane said.

No Violence as Negroes Return To Sturgis High

State Police Escort Seven To School Early

By United Press
There was no racial violence in the South's critical integration spots today for the first time in a week. Negroes attended school peacefully but under the watchful eyes of armed National Guardsmen, in Sturgis, Ky., and Clinton, Tenn.

Resistance to the integration of Sturgis High School collapsed, at least for the present. It was almost like a normal school day there this morning, except for the gleaming bayonets of state troops nearby as seven Negro pupils were escorted to the building by state police.

At Clay, Ky., 12 miles south of Sturgis, a Negro mother planned to enroll her child in a previously all-white school if police will give her protection. A white crowd prevented the Negro's registration last week.

The Sturgis Negro pupils were brought to school 90 minutes ahead of school opening. Just in case of trouble, 200 National Guardsmen, armed with bayoneted rifles and side arms, were on duty at the school, backed up by four tanks at each corner of the school grounds.

A small crowd witnessed the entry of the Negroes. National Guardsmen had to force a way through an angry throng last week to clear a path for them to enter the school building.

At Clinton, attendance picked up and there was no trouble today.

Principal D. J. Brittain Jr. said "we're winning the fight" to peacefully integrate the school. Brittain felt that a "campaign of fear" waged by segregationists to keep the school all-white had failed.

There were 520 pupils present at Clinton today and 266 absent. It was just about the other way around part of last week.

A week of violence or tension at schools scattered in so-called southern border spots from West Virginia to Texas held the attention of 12 Southern governors in an atomic conference at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

Five Killed in Auto-Truck Crash

KINGSTON, MINES, Ill. (U.P.) — Five persons died in the head-on collision of an auto and a semi-trailer truck loaded with frozen fish near here Sunday which also fatally injured a 7-year-old boy.

The dead were related by marriage, and were passengers of the auto. They included David Bennett, 37, Griggsville, Ill., driver of the car; his wife, Ruth, 34, and their son Fred, 14; Clyde H. Bennett, 45, brother of David, and his wife, Pauline, 47, also of Griggsville.

William Smith, a ward of David Bennett and his wife, was removed from the auto alive but critically injured. He was rushed to St. Francis hospital in nearby Peoria, Ill., where he died a short time later.

Peabody Purchases Mine Near Energy

HERRIN, Ill. (U.P.) — The Peabody Coal Co. has purchased the former Morgan Mines coal mine at Energy, two miles south of here and is operating it as the Energy Coal Co.

A company spokesman said the mine, which was opened in September, 1947, employs 45 workers and mines 1,800 tons of coal a day. Half of its output goes to the Joplin, Ill. steam electric plant.

Peabody's main offices are now located in Kansas City, Mo.

Wheat Acreage Reserve Open To Old Growers

Herman Driskell Announces County Program for 1957

Any producer who has a regular wheat acreage allotment may take part in the Soil Bank's acreage reserve program for the 1957 winter wheat crop, Herman Driskell, chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee, said today.

Producers on farms which receive an allotment as a new farm for the 1957 wheat crop, however, are not eligible for participation in the 1957 acreage reserve program. Payments under the program will be made for reducing the acreage of winter wheat below the amount of the allotment, designating in a written agreement a specified part of the allotment or acreage to be "reserved" from production. Land so designated may not be cropped or grazed during 1957.

The rate of payment for wheat acreage placed in the Acreage Reserve is $1.23 per bushel in Saline county. The amount of the payment will be based on the normal yield for the farm or the normal yield for the designated acreage, whichever is smaller.

An Acreage Reserve agreement for the 1957 winter wheat crop must be signed by the farm operator, by September 21. Other interested producers who have some control of the Acreage Reserve Land or who are to receive compensation under the agreement must also sign up to a somewhat later date.

Chairman Driskell explained that farmers may designate as much as 50 per cent of their allotment or 50 acres, whichever is larger, for inclusion in the wheat acreage reserve. However, the wheat acreage designated for the Acreage Reserve may not exceed the wheat allotment. The minimum acreage which the farmer may designate for the Acreage Reserve is 3 acres of the wheat allotment, whichever is smaller.

Interested farmers may sign up at the local ASC office in the city hall, Harrisburg, beginning about Sept. 12.

North Carolina Voters Approve Private Tuition

RALEIGH, N. C. (U.P.) — The North Carolina Constitution now allows communities to close schools and use the funds for private tuition as a last-ditch move to avoid racially mixed classrooms.

Voters overwhelmingly adopted a constitutional amendment in a special referendum Saturday providing for this so-called "safety valve" for a pupil-assignment law adopted last year.

The amendment legalized the closing of schools by local option when court-enforced integration threatens and using public funds to send pupils to private, segregated schools.

Unofficial returns from 1,786 of the state's 2,047 precincts showed a vote of 439,105 votes cast for the amendment to 96,986 against it.

State Civil Service Exams in October

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — The Illinois Civil Service Commission announced today that examinations for the positions of Architectural Aide, Architectural Draftsman I, II, III and IV, Engineering Aide I and II, Land scape Architect I and II, Cottage Parent III, Cottage Supervisor Child Welfare Supervisor I and II, Delinquency Prevention Coordinator and Warder II will be held in October. Written tests are tentatively scheduled for Oct. 6 and oral interviews or tests on Oct. 20.

Miss Maude Myers, commission president, said that examinations for these titles will be held only on one date. She added that applications must be submitted to the commission on or before Sept. 22.

Information about the positions and application blanks may be obtained from local offices of the State Employment Service or the Illinois Civil Service Commission, 501 Armory Building, Springfield.

Epping to Serve Prison Terms Concurrently

CHICAGO (U.P.) — Federal Judge John P. Barnes today granted the request that Edward A. Epping, a principal in the Orville E. Hodge scandal, be allowed to serve his state and federal prison sentences concurrently.

Epping, Hodge's former manager in the state auditor's office, was sentenced Aug. 31 to five years in prison for misapplication of bank funds, and received a four-to-five year state sentence Sept. 7 for his part in the state check fraud.

Epping was taken to Sangamon County jail at Springfield and was expected to be transferred to the Menard branch of the state penitentiary Tuesday. Asked if he'd see Hodge at the prison, Epping only smiled. His attorney, Hugh Dobbs, interrupted before he could answer.

Epping was impassive throughout today's session.

Dobbs said that the minimum sentence Epping could serve before being eligible for parole would be 38 months.

Concurrent terms are already being served by the other principals in the million-dollar scandal. Hodge is serving his term at Menard, and Edward A. Hintz, former bank president, is in Stateville penitentiary at Joliet.

Epping was sentenced Friday to a four to five year term on state charges of conspiracy in the embezzlement plot to drain the state treasury. The five year federal sentence for mis-application of funds in federally insured banks was imposed Aug. 31 by Barnes.

Butler Charges, Hall Denies Large Interests Finance GOP

WASHINGTON (U.P.) — Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler charged today that Republican election campaigns are "financed in large measure by corporation encouraged contributions."

He also asserted that some corporation executives have solicited 1956 GOP campaign funds from their employees and from "other persons dependent upon the corporation for their livelihood."

Butler's charges, at a public hearing of the Senate Elections subcommittee, drew prompt protest from Sen. Carl T. Curtis (R-Neb.), the ranking GOP member. Curtis criticized Butler for "taking advantage of this opportunity to charge without any details that large interest groups . . . are financing the Republican Party."

Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall, who followed Butler to the witness stand, told the subcommittee that "it is the policy of the Republican Party to constantly work at broadening the base of financial support."

The subcommittee opened an investigation into campaign contributions and spending in this year's presidential election contest.

Both Hall and Butler urged more emphasis on small contributions from ordinary citizens.

Butler said Democrats "would like to make sure that the popular base of campaign contributions is broad enough so that a party is not obligated to any person or group." He charged that the Republicans are so obligated to big corporations, and that their government policies have been influenced accordingly.

Hall said Republicans believe that it is good citizenship for everyone to make a political contribution, however small. He said they also believe that "by broadening the base of our financial support our party becomes stronger."

Butler reported to the subcommittee that the Democratic National Committee had $35,653 in cash on Sept. 1. But he said unpaid bills amounted to about $49,000, leaving a deficit of about $13,000.

Hall reported that the GOP National Committee had $664,625 in cash on Sept. 1. He said that up to Sept. 1 this year his committee had received contributions of $1,754,142 and spent $1,335,215.

THE LONG NIGHT

By MARTIN CAIDIN

from its wall rack and furiously spun the crank handle.

"Operator? Aircraft flash . . ."

At 8:52 that evening, Henry J. Thompson, owner of the largest hardware and auto supply store in Harrisburg, was in the Strand Theater with his wife, Janet. Henry Thompson was an upstanding citizen of his community. He was well-known and respected for his active work with the Community Chest. He helped to make successful the annual picnic outings for orphaned children, contributed generously to the local veterans hospital, and gave blood to the Red Cross and dollars to the March of Dimes. Fifty-four years old, slightly bald, and with the average middle-age figure, he also played a prominent part in Harrisburg's civil defense organization. It was not because he really believed in the possibility of war, or that Harrisburg and other cities would be atom bombed. He had joined only because the Governor had crusaded so vigorously for civil defense that he feared criticism if he failed to lend his support to the movement.

He offered his services directly to Col. Alfred Buyers, Harrisburg's civil defense director. Hank Thompson, Colonel Buyers was told, would make an excellent top-level civil defense executive, and would be both an asset to the organization and a tireless example of public spirit.

Thompson was now a member of the control center staff. He would be "in" on everything worth knowing. He took his loyalty oath, was finger-printed, photographed, and given his identification card, an armband and an emergency vehicle insignia which would take him through police roadblocks after a bombing. He attended training regularly, and often served as a speaker on civil defense before ladies' meetings and other groups.

Thompson was placed high on the list to receive the confidential "Yellow Alert" warning signal should attack threaten Harrisburg. This was the warning fanned out through the state by the Air Force when the situation seemed threatening. This awareness that he would know about the possible eruption of World War III before his fellow citizens could find out gave Thompson a sense of power. Colonel Buyers, was so serious about the whole thing. Even if the man had lost a leg in Italy, that didn't mean he was infallibly right about everything. Thompson had sufficient sense of reality to appreciate the fact that three factories in Harrisburg had put the city on the map as a prime target; the Olympus Jet Corporation, one of the country's largest manufacturers of jet engines; the Eastern Electric Company, which Distributed by NEA Service, even now was secretly converting to the production of guided-missile control mechanisms; and the Northeastern Nut and Bolt Factory. The latter, seemingly unimportant, produced more than 80 per cent of the nuts and bolts used by Detroit's largest auto manufacturer. In wartime, it supplied those same nuts and bolts for tanks and armored vehicles.

"One well-placed atomic bomb," Buyers would repeat endlessly, "can knock out our ability to wage war. Don't think that because we are a city of less than 500,000 population we don't figure highly on the choice of targets. They knock out Olympus, and they've cut our jet-engine production in half. Destroy Northeastern Nut and Bolt and our tank manufacturers will go begging in scrap piles for stuff to hold their tanks together. Tens of thousands of guided missiles will be no good if those electronic parts from Eastern Electric don't keep coming off the production lines."

The evening of Nov. 28 Henry Thompson, with his wife, had driven the 12 blocks from their home to the Strand.

As he drove across Atlanta Avenue, Thompson pointed out to his wife the decorations strung across the main thoroughfare. Large signs proclaiming "Only 19 More Shopping Days to Christmas" were displayed prominently in store windows. The men dressed in Santa Claus costumes stood on the corners, ringing their bells, waiting patiently for contributions.

Thompson never even thought of calling in his whereabouts to the Sheriff's office. Nothing was going to happen.

His 22-year-old son John was out bowling with his college friends. Johnny was the one person in Thompson's immediate circle whom he could not control. The boy had a mind of his own and disdained his father's hope that he eventually would take over the hardware store. He was headed for big business, and was studying administrative engineering at Harrisburg College.

Thompson was surprised that John would spend the evening bowling. Invariably he was to be found with his fiancée, Sue Wilson. They planned on a wedding in another six months, and appeared inseparable. Tonight, Thompson knew, his future daughter-in-law would be shopping for a wedding gown, anxious to take advantage of the special Christmas sales.

His daughter, Terry, pretty as a picture and exploring the wonderful new world of a girl just turned 16, was attending a school meeting preparing for a Christmas play. Thirteen-year-old Don was doing homework—or more likely watching television—with a school-mate next door.

At 8:54 on the evening of Nov. 28, as Tim Ketcham in his lonely spotter's tower spoke his urgent Aircraft Flash into the telephone, Henry and Janet Thompson relaxed in their theater seats to enjoy the musical being flashed on the screen before them.

Illinois Nurseries

Accept Orders for Tree Seedlings

On September 1 the Illinois Department of Conservation, Division of Forestry, started accepting orders from owners of rural land for 10,000,000 reforestation tree seedlings and wildlife plants, according to Jim Menzie, farm forester at Harrisburg.

Most of the orders will be delivered next spring. Shipments will be made by express collect unless landowners residing near the nurseries, located at Jonesboro and Havana, wish to call for their seedlings.

Farmers, sportsmen, and other rural land owners are urged by the forester to contact the Springfield office or their nearest forestry office immediately to obtain application forms and helpful planting information. Forms and advice also are available from the county farm adviser and from the local Soil Conservation Service office. A tree planting machine will again be available free of charge to those planting several thousand trees. Arrangements should be made with the Farm Forester for its use when the trees are ordered.

Prices of the 17 evergreen and hardwood species available range from 1/2 cent to 1 1/2 cents per seedling, or $5 to $15 per thousand trees. Multiflora rose is priced at $12.50 per thousand and black walnut seed sells at $4.00. By investing pennies for plantations on the poorest part of the farm, Menzie pointed out, a farmer can often raise his property values by several hundred dollars. A pine Christmas tree plantation can double as a windbreak, improve the beauty of our farms, and make for enjoyable living, he said.

The water ouzel, or dipper, has the usual custom of winking one eye.

Who lost his life in an automobile accident one year ago today, September 10th, in Pontiac, Michigan.

I seem to see in a soft dim light a face I loved so dear.

And think of him when sun last rays goes down in the far off west.

I miss you no less as time passes on, than I did on the day of your going.

For absence can never close the door of my heart and all my love is still glowing.

Your heart was the truest in all the world, Your love was the best to recall.

For no one on earth can take your place, You were so dear to us all.

My lips cannot tell how I miss him, My heart cannot tell what to say,

God only knows how we miss him, In a home that is lonesome today.

HEADY PLAY—Roy McMillan, Cincinnati's shortstop, flipped over onto his head when Johnny Logan of the Braves hit him in a useless effort to break up a double play.

Braves Win Two from Cubs; Cardinals Stop Reds, 6-5; Dodgers Beat Giants, 6-1

By United Press

The front-running Milwaukee Braves had the odd pleasure today of counting the Cincinnati Redlegs as allies in their struggle to beat back the challenge of the world champion Brooklyn Dodgers.

This curious turn of events in the National League race resulted when the Braves beat the Chicago Cubs, 7-4, and 5-3, Sunday to go one game ahead of the Dodgers and three in front of the Redlegs. The Dodgers whipped the New York Giants, 6-1, while the Cardinals downed the Redlegs, 6-5, in 13 innings.

The Braves now look to a two-game series with the Dodgers Tuesday night and Wednesday afternoon at Ebbets Field where they've split eight games. In addition, they can reason that the Redlegs, who visit Ebbets Field next Sunday and Monday, will help the Braves more than themselves if they beat the Dodgers. The Redlegs, 5-3 at Ebbets Field, are the only team in the league with an edge in Brooklyn.

The Braves, 38-26 on the road this season, snapped a five-game losing streak when they overcame a four-run deficit in Sunday's opener and then beat the Cubs for the 11th time in 19 meetings in the nightcap.

Washington Senators, 2-1, and stretched their American League lead to 11 games when the second-place Cleveland Indians and Chicago White Sox split a double-header.

Billy Hunter tripped home two unearned runs in the seventh inning for the Yankees to give Whitey Ford, who fanned 11, his 17th win.

Herb Score struck out nine to raise his season total to 220 and pitch the Indians to a 4-1 victory but the White Sox, won the second game, 6-2, as Gerry Staley turned in a seven-hitter for his sixth win. Rocky Colavito hit his 18th homer for the Indians' big blow of the opener.

Billy Goodman singled to score Pete Daley from third base and give the Boston Red Sox a 12-inning, 3-2 decision over the Baltimore Orioles. Relief pitcher Ike Delock won his 12th game while Connie Johnson lost his 10th.

Mantle Fading In Homer Race

NEW YORK (AP)—Mickey Mantle is fading fast in the face of Babe Ruth's blistering September pace of 1927 but the Yankee slugger "ain't seen nothin' yet."

"He now needs five home runs (count 'em) in the next three games to draw even with the immortal Bambino's pace en route to the 60-mark. Mantle failed to homer again Sunday and now has 47 in 137 games. Ruth had 49 in 137 games in 1927.

Aaron Leads Attack

Hank Aaron lashed out four singles to lead the Braves' 12-hit attack in the first game and also contributed a run-scoring single in the seventh inning of the second game. Shortstop Felix Mantilla had singled home Chuck Tanner to snap a 1-1 tie earlier in the frame. Gene Conley received credit for his eighth victory.

Don Drysdale, 20-year old rookie right-hander, pitched a three-hitter and hit his first big league homer to spark the Dodgers. Drysdale yielded a first-inning homer to Willie Mays but then checked the Giants easily the rest of the way.

The Cardinals beat the Redlegs for the third straight time when they rallied for two runs in the bottom half of the 13th after Cincinnati went ahead in the top of the frame on Roy McMillan's run-scoring triple.

Pinch-hitter Bob Skinner's three-run, 10th-inning homer enabled the Pittsburgh Pirates to score a 4-1 victory, but the Philadelphia Phillies won the nightcap, 6-5, on Elmer Valo's 10th-inning sacrifice fly.

FINAL SOUNDING

Meet to Set Date for Series

NEW YORK (AP)—Representatives from six major league teams will meet late today with baseball Commissioner Ford Frick to set dates for the World Series, establish ticket prices and work out other details.

The series almost certainly will begin on Wednesday, Oct. 3, barring a National League playoff or a make-up game or two which would be pertinent to the final place standings if it were not possible for such games to be played before Sunday, Sept. 30, the final day of the season.

Legion Loses to Murphysboro, 9-4; Beats Evansville Tigers, 6-5

The Harrisburg Legion baseball team played two good games during the week end on the VFW field. The locals lost the Saturday night tilt, 9-4, to Murphysboro and won a thriller Sunday, 6-5, from the Evansville Tigers.

Glidewell, a league pitcher for Waterloo and the Dubuque, Iowa, teams of Class A leagues, tossed a four-hitter and struck out 22 batters as he pitched and battled Murphysboro to victory. Don Stout was equally as good for six innings but weakened slightly later in the game.

The Legion scored first in the third when Jim Hay was safe on an error. J. W. Pulliam attempted to sacrifice and beat it out for a base hit. Stout singled to right, scoring Hay and Pulliam. Odle singled off the pitcher's glove. Ron Ziegler squeezed Stout in with a perfect bunt for the third run.

Murphy scored his first run in the fifth on a triple by Rathien and an error. They scored two more in the sixth with only one infield hit and untied the game in the seventh on an error and another single. Murphy finished his scoring in the ninth with four hits and five runs.

The Legion scored its final run in the ninth on an infield hit by Logsdon who was injured on the play and had to leave the game. Logsdon broke his nose on a collision play. Wallace, running for Logsdon, stole second and scored on an error by the Murphysboro shortstop of Dallas' smash.

Sunday's game was a hotly played tilt with both teams showing lots of fire. Don Wallace pitched for the locals until the ninth when the visitors got two straight hits. Don Stout came to his rescue and struck out two straight hits. Don Stout came to the final man on a ground ball to his right in the hole.

The Legion jumped on Chambers, the Tigers' left-handed pitcher, in the first inning when Odle walked, Guley tripled, Dailey singled, Dallas doubled and Stout singled. Chambers then settled down and shut out the Legion the rest of the game except for the fifth when Ziegler singled, Guley was safe on an error, Dallas walked and McNew singled Ziegler and Guley across.

Bill McNew caught both games for the Legion.

Next Saturday night the locals will play the Cartersville Stars on the VFW field and Sunday's opponent will be announced later.

Umpires for the games were Henry Winkelman, umpire in chief, Tess Groves, Gene Stone and Gurn Skelly, base umpires, for Saturday. For Sunday Kayo Willis was umpire in chief, Tess Groves and Accie Miller, base umpires.

Set Prices for Reserved Seats for Four Football Games

Price of the season reserved seats for four football games at Taylor Field this fall is $3.50 per seat. Ellis F. Henson, HTHS principal, announced today.

The regular season price is 75 cents per game, which means that the premium paid for reserved seats for four games is 50 cents.

There will be 300 seats marked off in the first rows of the two middle sections of the stadium and anybody wanting these seats may call the high school and they will be held for the fans.

There will be about 2,200 general admission seats in the stadium and bleachers besides the reserved seats.

Defense Top Grid Problem For Buckeyes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State Coach Woody Hayes today put the emphasis on defense, which he feels is the biggest problem facing his Buckeye football team.

"We have got to get our defense toughened up earlier this year than we did last fall," Coach Hayes said in ordering a heavy week of work on defense.

Last year, the Buckeyes gave up nine touchdowns in their first four games. They got tough from then on, yielding only five touchdowns in winning five games. They blanked Northwestern and Michigan along the way.

The Ohioans, riding a 13-game Big Ten winning streak, are shooting for a record third Big Ten title in a row this fall.

Hayes has warned there is too much optimism here this year but he admits Ohio State is one of three or four teams with a good chance to win the championship.

"We have 22 men of Big Ten caliber," Hayes said. "Eleven of these are in the backfield, 11 are on the line."

This Hayes said, "pretty well sums up our situation, problems on the line but all right in the backfield."
